Presposition of Time

Do you know the meaning of the days of the week?

- Sunday: The English noun Sunday derived sometime before 1250 from sunedai, which itself developed from Old English (before 700) Sunnandæg (literally meaning "sun's day"

- Monday: In Judaism and Islam Mondays are considered auspicious days for fasting. The Didache warned early Christians not to fast on Mondays to avoid Judaizing, and suggests Wednesdays instead. In Judaism the Torah is read in public on Monday mornings.

- Tuesday: The name Tuesday derives from the Old English "Tiwesdæg" and literally means "Tiw's Day". n the Nahuatl language, Tuesday is Huītzilōpōchtōnal

- Wednesday: The name is a calque of the Latin dies Mercurii "day of Mercury".

- Thursday: The name is derived from Old English Þūnresdæg and Middle English Thursday, which means "Thor's day

- Friday: In some workplaces workers wear less formal attire on Fridays, known as Casual Friday or Dress-Down Friday. In other countries, (see workweek and weekend) Friday is the first day of the weekend, with Saturday the second. In Saudi Arabia, Afghanistan and Iran.

- Saturday: In Nepal Saturday is last day of the week and is the only official weekly holiday

Preposition of Time

PREPOSITIONS OF TIME
At	In	On
Hours Example: at seven o'clock Public holidays Example: at Christmas The following words: night/midnight/noon Example: at night Weekend Example: at weekend "the end" "the moment" Example: at the end, at the moment	Sections of the day Example: in the afternoon Months Example: in august Seasons Example: in spring Years Example: in 1987 Century Example: in the 90's century Duration Example: in five hours	Days of the week Example: on Saturday Dates Example: on July 22nd
Ago	By	During
How far it happened (in the past) Example: 20 years ago	Not later than a special time Example: by Friday	Through the whole of a period of time Example: During the vacations
For	Since	Until
Period of time Example: for two weeks	Point of time Example: since July	No later than a special time Example: until tomorrow
To
Time of the day Example: 5 minutes to 4 (3:55)		