IN THE NEAR FUTURE

UNIT 4

Introduction Unit 4

INTRODUCTION

This closing unit of English II is a crucial point for you to reflect on all you have achieved in terms of comprehension and application of the main lexical, grammatical, and communicational skills. Recapitulating on this will help you understand better and enjoy this unit. Please, as you progress through the unit contents, try to link them to your previous knowledge.

OBJECTIVE OF THE UNIT

The learner will be able to manage all the most common future forms used in every day's language, as well as the zero and first conditionals. He is also able to understand and produce more complex sentences using passive voice in simple present and past. He achieves these grammatical and communicational goals together with the acquisition of lexis related to relationships, ambitions and compromises by practicing through written and other interactive exercises and quizzes.
